

Y5—Week 9—Creative Writing Task B

You've been on your daily walk 100 times now. Nothing changes. Until one seemingly normal day... you notice a tunnel in the trees which wasn't there before. How did you never notice it before? Where did it come from? Where does it go?

You decide to follow it! Do you go alone? What can you hear as you're walking? The tunnel feels as though it goes on forever. What will you find when you reach the other end?

Success criteria:

- Figurative language to describe (similes, metaphors, personification, alliteration, hyperbole)
- Written in 1st person
- Use of subordinate conjunctions (I SAW A WABUB)
- Describe what / who you find at the other end

Teacher example: (you might choose to use this to help you start)

Cautiously, I stepped inside the verdant archway at the entrance to the tunnel. Why had I never noticed this before? The vibrant leaves chattered and fidgeted in the gentle breeze. A shiver ran down my spine. Taking a deep breath, I walked forwards. Although there was something peculiar about this tunnel, I did not feel frightened to explore it. The iron markings - beneath my feet - guided me onwards, encouraging me to continue along the path.

CREATIVE WRITING TASK—NO ANSWERS WILL BE PROVIDED

Any great examples can be emailed to athome@fieldcourt-jun.gloucs.sch.uk