3 June: English

Revising apostrophes for contraction

3 June - To revise using apostrophes to contract (combine) words and use them in your writing.

ENGLISH

The image is a vertical rectangular card with an orange header and a light grey body. The header contains the text '3 June: English' in a white box. Below this is an illustration of an open notebook with a hand writing on it, surrounded by small decorative icons like stars and a crescent moon. The main body of the card has the title 'Revising apostrophes for contraction' in bold, followed by a paragraph explaining the task for 3 June. At the bottom, the word 'ENGLISH' is written in a simple font.
